

CURIOUS WILL CASE.—A short time back died intestate, in the neighborhood of Melbourne, a brewer named Graham, leaving a widow and family, and real and personal property amounting to between £70,000 and £80,000. The widow applied for letters of administration. An attorney who had, or professed to have, a claim on the estate entered a caveat. On the hearing of the case it came out that the deceased had been twice married—the first time to a Jane Lancaster, at Beverley, in Yorkshire, on the 7th of September, 1826, and that by this wife he had two sons, John and William, who never left England, and are still living in their native place in very humble circumstances. At what time Mr. Graham emigrated did not appear, but it was shown that in 1840 he was married again in Melbourne to a Mrs. Crook, an apparent widow, with a family by her first husband who was formerly in the Ordnance Department in Holm. Town. One of these children, a Miss Crook, (a married woman,) lodged a caveat against her mother (Mrs. Graham), obtaining letters of administration, alleging that at the time of her marriage with Graham in 1840, her first husband, Crook, was alive, and an inmate of the lunatic asylum at Holm. Town, and that he lived for several years afterwards. Her claimant's affidavit was filed on behalf of the mother denying the facts alleged against herself and alleging that the daughter's position was merely for the purpose of extorting money; that she, the daughter, was herself in the position charged on the mother and that her first husband, a man named Anthony, was still alive. Be this as it may it very distinctly appeared, from correspondence and certificates forwarded from England by a Mr. Champney, a solicitor instructed by Graham's younger son, Beverley, that Graham's Beverley wife did not die until 1850; so that when Graham went through the marriage ceremony with Mrs. Crook in 1840 the proceeding was null. The above-stated facts would probably never have come to light at all, but for the circumstance that Graham, being in bad health, wrote home to his English son about a month before his death, one of whom, seeing a fortune in the wind, at once instructed Mr. Champney to communicate with the father on his behalf. The father, however, died before Mr. Champney's letter reached the colony. The Beverley son seems to be the only one of his kind and therefore they will apparently be light straight from penury into the possession of some £40,000 each.

THE OCEAN CROPPING.—The New Orleans Phoenix, in a recent issue, speaking of the crop grown in 1870, says it will be safe to count upon 4,000,000 bales received at the ports. The overseas shipments too, have been uncommonly large—100,000 bales having passed through Nashville on one road alone. The Phoenix estimates the total at 320,000 bales. The Southern mills have also largely increased the consumption, which last year amounted to 78,843 bales. Upon these facts the Phoenix founds the following estimate of the crop:

Overland at the ports..... 4,000,000 bales
Overland direct shipments..... 100,000
Consumption of Southern mills..... 78,843
Total..... 4,178,843 bales
The only crop larger than this in number of bales, was that of 1869-70, which was 4,675,770. The average weight of a bale of cotton that year was 457 pounds, which would make that crop 2,136,725,890 pounds. This season the average weight of bales has been considerably in excess of the foregoing. A statement was published not long since setting it down at 464.41 pounds. This, we think, a little too low. The average at New Orleans justifies 470 pounds to the bale for the whole crop. This average weight per bale would bring the whole crop to 2,482,109,000 pounds. There is therefore, only a difference of 54,625,890 pounds, or less than 4 per cent. in favor of the crop of 1870-71, and the total may possibly turn out as large.

TYPE SET BY STEAM.—One invention did interest me, it was a steam type-composing machine. A Mr. Mackie, of Warrington, had patented this affair, and it is now used in several printing offices, and, of course, it is the work of the printing press. The inventor claims that it is a great improvement on the small one which has a key board, like a piano, of fourteen keys. The operator sets before him the copy which is to be put in type, and manipulates the keys whereupon there is revolved from beneath an interminable strip of paper, two inches wide, which is full of punctures. Each one of these punctures corresponds with a letter of the written copy. The whole mechanism having been copied in punctures, the roll of punctured paper is set in a machine that looks like a roll of paper. The top of the center-table has all around on its edge little boxes containing type. The top of the table then revolves. The punctured paper runs around, and when a center type is reached, a little lever falls, by means of the center of the wheel, and causes the type to fall into the paper, the other end touching and selecting the letter that is needed. The type so selected falls into place and the row of selected type pours in a continuous stream out upon a regular composition's stick, which as fast as it is filled is removed to the form.

This may seem simple in the description, but it seems wonderfully smooth and simple when seen. A man engaged at the perforators and three boys at the compositor to feed the boxes with type and space out the lines set up a newspaper column, large as one of the Times, in one hour, which Mr. Mackie maintains is equal to the composition of eight men. It is certainly a great improvement on the old method. It has been ten years or so, and has now certainly gained a success. Where our commercial houses have hitherto calculated instead of clerks, and our newspaper offices have revolving center-tables instead of compositors, why should not Mr. Carey's dream of an iron automatic Prime Minister be realized? The Republics of England will be the handsome thing by which the Prime Minister of the future will be elected, and the name and not have a large family. To return to Mr. Mackie's machine, I may add that his machine costs £600, and the inventor advises that he is prepared to undertake type-setting for one year in any house that purchases at three pence per thousand (whatever the size of the type), say 100,000 lines. Mackie is proprietor of the Warrington Guardian, the largest paper in England, set up to 112 columns of the Times, and it certainly is equal to any other, set up by his machine, all variables being used—small type, million and nonpareil.—(Glas. Com. Letter.)

THE HIGHEST TYPE OF HUMANITY.—Prof. Huxley, in responding to the customary compliments to science at the Royal Academy dinner (London), said (in concluding his speech): "I will be generous, and acquit you with a full and generally known, to-wit, that the present progress of biological speculation leads to the conclusion that the realm of being must be thus stated—minerals, plants, animals, man, who cannot draw a line. Thence, I conclude, sir, that you, as President of the Academy, are the crown and summit of creation. My statement, however complimentary, may be a little startling, and you will therefore, I hope, permit me to state the grounds on which I take such a scientific truth. We have been long adding to the realm of being, for a distinction between man and animals. The old barrier has long been broken away. Other things walk on two legs and have no feathers, caterpillars make themselves clothes, kangaroos have pockets. If I am not to believe that my dog reasons, loves, and hates, how am I to be sure that my neighbor does? Parrots, again, talk with the fluency of men, as much as a great deal of what it would be paid to call nonsense. Again, beavers and ants engineer as well as the members of the noblest of professions. But, as a friend of mine discovered, a few years ago, man alone can draw, or make into him self a likeness. This, then, is the great distinction of humanity, and it follows that the most preciously human of creatures are those who possess this distinction to the highest degree."

Telegraphic Extension.
There are 450,000 miles of telegraph wire in Europe, 100,000 in America, 100,000 in India, and 10,000 in Australia. There are in addition 30,000 miles of submarine cable, and yet telegraphic extension throughout the world is going on at the rate of 100,000 miles of wire per annum. The development of submarine telegraphic communication is at present a matter of serious interest and consideration. Its construction is costly, and the laying of it is hazardous; while the amount of business, especially in the Indian and Pacific Oceans, is not so large as might be wished.

There are now two distinct lines of communication between America and China and the East—by way of the Mediterranean and the Indian Ocean; the other by way of St. Petersburg, through Siberia to the Amur River. In addition to these lines, Mr. Cyrus Field proposes to lay a cable between San Francisco and Shanghai. The route of this line runs in a southerly direction in a straight line to Honolulu, one of the Sandwich Islands, a distance of 2,080 nautical miles; thence to Midway Island, 1,140; from the island to Yokohama, in Japan, 2,300; and from Yokohama to Shanghai, 1,035—total distance, 6,515 miles. Another proposed line between Singapore and San Francisco, about the same distance, takes a northerly direction, very similar in character to that of the southern line, the two lines forming two opposite obtuse angles, the extreme northern point being at the Aleutian Islands, the southern at the Sandwich Islands.

The Russian line, which is under the control of the Government, runs by way of Moscow and Tomsk to Urtuk, on the southern shore of the Baffin Sea, and thence to the Amur River, which it strikes at Tolai, the northeastern point of the Chinese Empire. From there a branch line runs to the mouth of the Amur, the main line taking a due southerly direction to the Japan Sea, skirting the coast of Korea, and crossing the Yellow Sea to Shanghai. This line is about 4,500 miles in length. The route by the Cape of Good Hope is a more direct one, but is reported to be more trustworthy than the Russian route. The first branch of it is the Falmouth, Gibraltar, and Malta line, 2,450 miles in length, and opened May 31st, 1870; the second, the Anglo-Mediterranean Company, from Malta to Alexandria, 908 miles, opened October, 1868; then the Suez and Bombay line, 3,000 miles, opened April, 1870; the British India Extension Company, to Ceylon and Singapore, 1,750 miles, opened October, 1869; and the China-Singapore Telegraph Company, from Singapore to Hongkong and Shanghai, 2,640 miles, lately opened. A line, 1,730 miles in length, is also constructing between Singapore and Port Darwin, on the northern shore of Australia, passing through the island of Java. This line will be completed before the end of this year, according to the stipulations of the contract. Another line is also contracted for between Melbourne and the southernmost point of New Zealand. Thus, by this route, the line of communication between New York and Shanghai is 12,200 miles, and with Australia 12,200 miles. A message can be sent from New York to Shanghai over these lines and an answer received in two hours' time. This, of course, is the ordinary time occupied in the transmission of messages, two days sometimes being taken. By the Russian route, the distance between New York and Shanghai is about 7,500 miles.—N. Y. Tribune, Aug. 20.

When a man is unable to tell the time by his watch, because there are two hands and he doesn't know "which to believe," it is a tolerable sure sign that he has partaken of more refreshment than his nature requires.

ALL CURES MADE EASY!
Bad Legs, Ulcerous Sores, Bad Breasts and Old Wounds.

No description of wounds, sores or ulcers can resist the healing properties of this excellent Ointment. The worst cases readily assume a healthy appearance whenever this medicinal is applied; wound healing springs up from the bottom of the wound, inflammation of the surrounding skin is arrested and a complete and permanent cure quickly follows the use of the Ointment.

Piles, Fistulas and Internal Inflammation.
These distressing and weakening diseases may with certainty be cured by the sufferers themselves, if they will use Holloway's Ointment, and strictly attend to the printed instructions. It should be well rubbed on the neighboring parts, when all obnoxious matter will be removed, and the system will be restored, if the use of these medicines be persevered in.

Rheumatism, Gout and Neuralgia.
Nothing has the power of reducing inflammation and subsiding pain in these complaints in the same degree as Holloway's Ointment and purifying Pills. When used simultaneously they drive all inflammation and depravity from the system, subside and remove all enlargement of the joints, and leave the sinews and muscles lax and uncontracted. A cure may always be made, even when the system is so far gone that the sufferer is unable to move, if the use of these medicines be persevered in.

Eruptions, Scald Head, Ringworm and other Skin Diseases.
After fomentation with warm water, the utmost relief and speediest cure can be readily obtained in all complaints affecting the skin and joints, the eruptions of the Ointment and Pills. But it must be remembered that every skin disease indicates the disordered state of the blood, and the disengagement of the liver and stomach; consequently, in many cases, it is required to purify the blood, which will be effected by the use of the Pills. The general health will be improved, although the eruption may be driven out more freely than before, and which should be promoted. Perseverance is necessary.

Sore Throat, Diphtheria, Quins, Mumps and all other Derangements of the Throat.
On the appearance of any of these maladies, the Ointment should be well rubbed at least three times a day upon the neck and upper part of the chest, so as to penetrate to the glands, and salt is forced into them; this course will at once remove inflammation and ulceration. The worst cases will yield to this treatment by following the printed directions.

Scrofula or King's Evil and Swelling of the Glands.
This class of cases may be cured by Holloway's purifying Pills and Ointment, as their double action of purifying the blood and strengthening the system renders them very reliable. Thus, any other remedy for all complaints of a scrofulous nature. As the blood is impure, the liver, stomach and bowels being much diseased, require a purifying medicine to bring about a cure.

Both the Ointment and Pills should be used in the following Cases:
Bad Legs, Ulcerous Sores, Bad Breasts, Old Wounds, Rheumatism, Gout and Neuralgia, Eruptions, Scald Head, Ringworm and other Skin Diseases, Sore Throat, Diphtheria, Quins, Mumps and all other Derangements of the Throat, Scrofula or King's Evil and Swelling of the Glands, Piles, Fistulas and Internal Inflammation, Rheumatism, Gout and Neuralgia, Eruptions, Scald Head, Ringworm and other
